

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY
TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

IDEA 2004 and Disciplining Students with Disabilities

Department of Educational Psychology
Distinguished Speaker Series

FALL 2016

October 5th, 2016

9:00 am – 11:30 am

Memorial Student Center, Room 1400

This event is exclusive to SPED faculty and students and those who have interests related to behavior and discipline in schools*

Antonis Katsiyannis, Ed.D.

Antonis Katsiyannis, Ed.D., is a Distinguished Alumni Professor of Special Education at Clemson University, where he teaches courses in assessment, applied behavior analysis, and legal and policy issues. He has published numerous articles in the areas of legal and policy issues associated with special education, delinquency, and issues involving students with emotional or behavioral disorders. He serves on several editorial boards and as the co-editor of the Journal of Disability Policy Studies. He is also actively involved in the field of behavioral disorders by serving in national boards, including as the current president of the Council for Exceptional Children.

Contact Cathy Watson:

cwatson@tamu.edu

<http://epsy.tamu.edu/program/distinguished-speaker-series>